The Chintamanrao College of Commerce (CCC) is a pioneering commerce degree college in western Maharashtra and north Karnataka, situated in the city of Sangli, Maharashtra. The College was established in 1960 by the Deccan Education Society with a view to providing enlightened leadership and trained manpower in the fields of trade, commerce and business to the region which was on the threshold of agricultural and economic transformation. The college is affiliated first with the University of Pune and then with the Shivaji University, Kolhapur. The college has produced many notable leaders, businessmen and industrialists.

Prof. Devadatt Dhabholkar, a renowned Economist, was the First Principal of the College dotted with lush green trees and shrubs all around. Later on from 1965 to 1974 noted educationist and economist Dr. C. G. Vaidya was the Principal. He started PG courses and management courses in the college.

We run B. Com, B. B. A. and M. Com courses with specializations in Advanced accountancy, Advanced Banking, Taxation and Costing. We nurture students with adequate emphasis on their all- round development in academic , cultural and sport activities. CCCS also enjoys the reputation of being a friend of the less privileged sections, in the drought prone region of western Maharashtra and north Karnataka.

CCCS is equipped with spacious lecture rooms, computer laboratory, enriched library, sports complex including cricket ground facility. Besides infrastructure, college is valued for its academic excellence. We promote continuous engagement between college, industry, commercial and professional institutions. The faculty members continue to discharge their duties with dedication, commitment and passion. In the years ahead CCCS will continue to uphold the rich legacy of DES being one of the renowned college for commerce education in western Maharashtra and strive to become one of the best academic institution. We believe that all the stakeholders are equally significant but the most important stakeholder and the strength of the college is the alumni association "Aamhi Chintamani's".

I convey my good wishes to all those who are aspiring to get admitted to

CCCS. With best wishes

Principal, CCCS.
